

Top 10 Money-making Programs May 2008 Global Review

Introduction

Every month, doEverything.biz marketing team reviews the available money-making programs on the Internet and lists the top 10. You, as someone who is interested in having an income through online activities, should be familiar with all these programs. Please read carefully the short description of each program and click on the respective image to go to their website to evaluate for yourself to see if you'd like to work on these programs. While the list of the available programs on the Internet is endless, every month, we put together an updated short list of well-established programs which have proven to perform brilliantly and put cash into your pocket. Earnings of all these programs come from your activities directly as well as from the activities of the persons who you have referred to these programs. This latter characteristic is what makes most of these programs have virtually unlimited earning potential.

Program #10: Sales Spider

Category: Marketing & Networking

Sales Spider is a Social Network for small & mid-sized businesses. You can use it to advertise for free & make money, find opportunities and sales leads and build your personal and business networks. You can build an online profile & expand your contacts. Here are some important features:

- * Free advertising to thousands on Sales Spider: free online marketplace – post or view classified ads.

- * In your Online Profile, use your dashboard to chat, e-mail, message & build personal networks, find opportunities, access sales leads & track events and pitch your products/service with free advertising.

- * Affiliates: Each referral is worth $1.00 plus other contest-based prizes.